GOOD-BYE---

"Poob, promise you won't forget about me, ever. Not even when I'm a hundred."

Poob thought for a little.

"How old shall I be then?"

"Ninety-nine."

Poob nodded.

"I promise," he said.

Still with his eyes on the world Christopher Robin put out a hand and felt for Poob's paw.

"Poob," said Christopher Robin earnestly, "if I – if I'm not quite – " he stopped and tried again – "Poob, whatever happens, you will understand, won't you?"

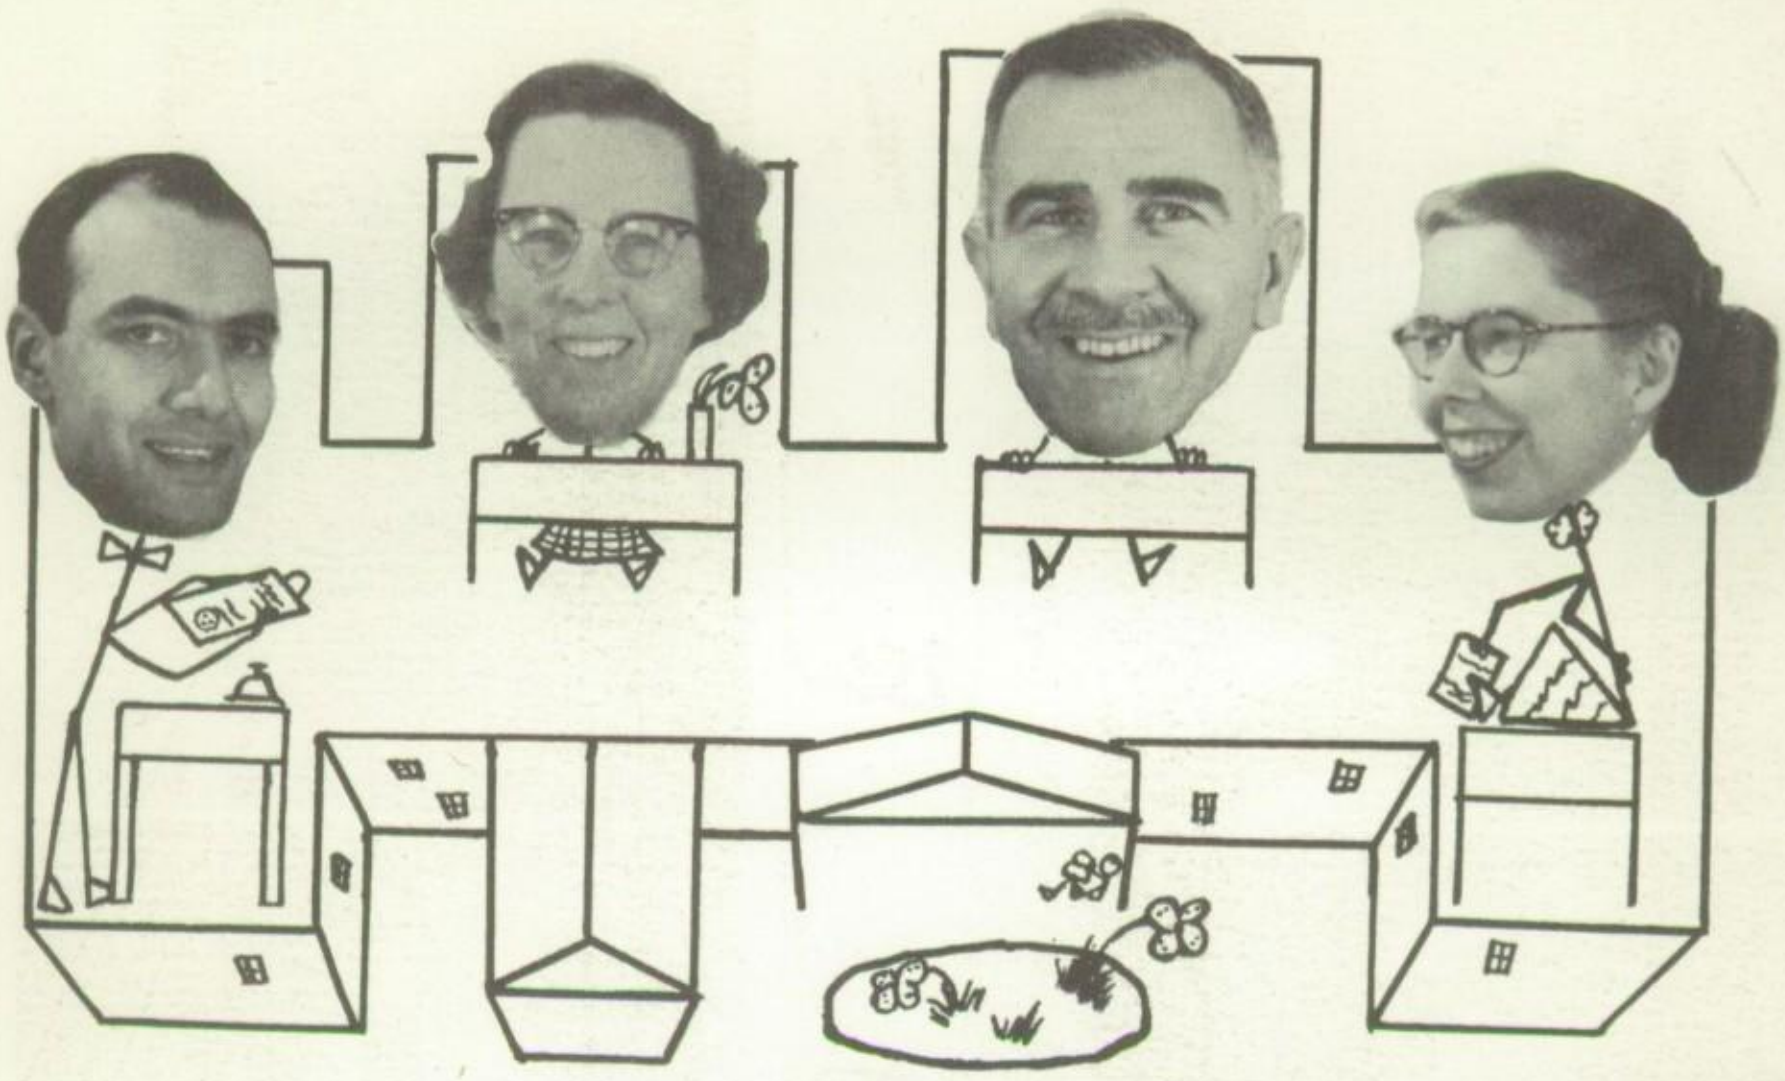
"Understand what?"

"Oh, nothing." He laughed and jumped to his feet. "Come on!"

"Where?" said Poob.

"Anywhere," said Christopher Robin.

FACULTY



BIG FOUR

Leadership and guidance are the two terms usually thought of in connection with these four "moulders of our destinies", but we seldom stop to think of the patience, drudgery, understanding, and wit which underlie these qualities.

Master Dan, ever since his arrival here as headmaster five years ago, has been a friend and counsellor to faculty and student alike. His common sense, universal genialty, and sound judgment have won both our respect and friendship.

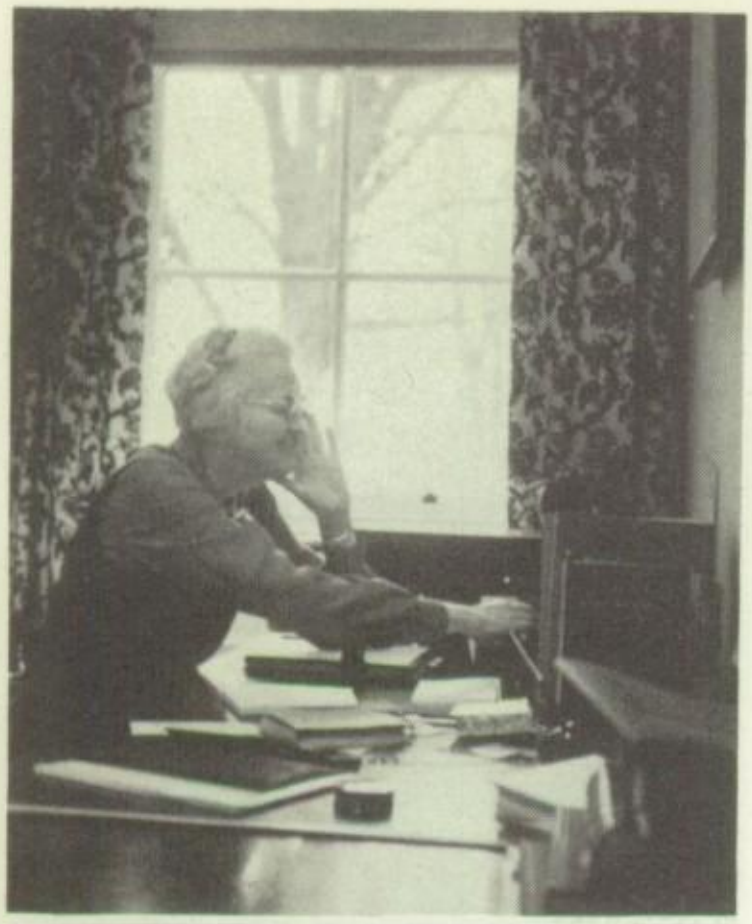
To Master Charlie with his broad grin, innumerable puns, and sincere advice, and to Teacher Anne with her hospitality, love of fun and Pogo, and wise counsel, we owe not only the tireless and excellent execution of their work as deans, but also many hours of fun and relaxation.

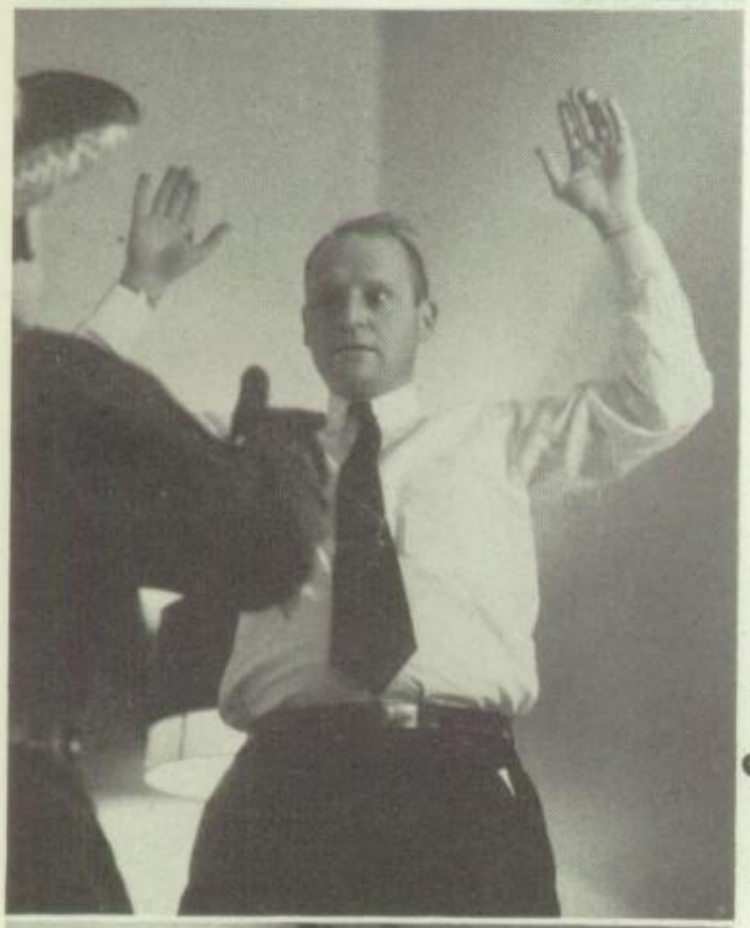
Teacher Rachel, our brisk associate principal and lover of tartans, may always be relied upon for advice both given and taken with a grain of salt.

These four have become through these, their individual characteristics, our friends outside of, as well as in, the classroom.

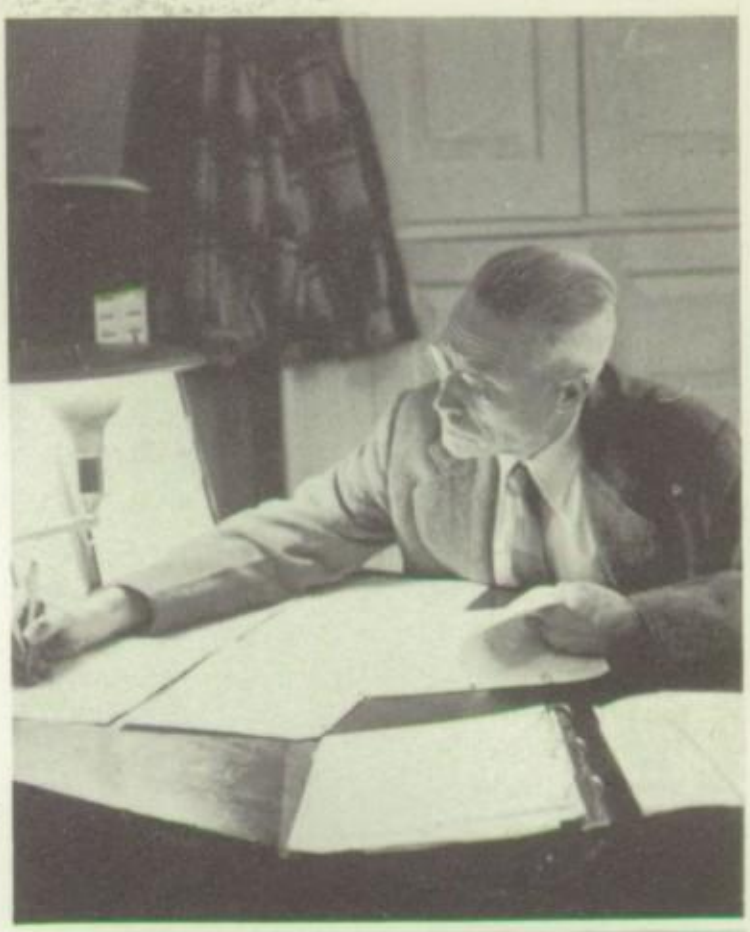
"Eeyore, what are you doing there?" said Rabbit

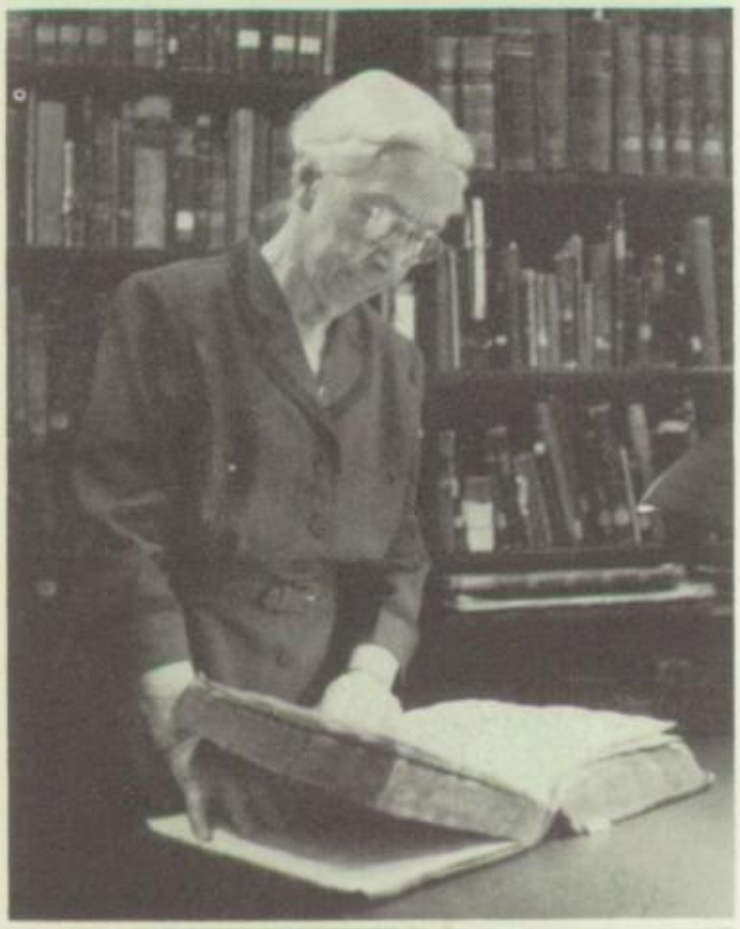
Chatter, chatter, chatter . . .
Chatter, chatter, chatter . . .



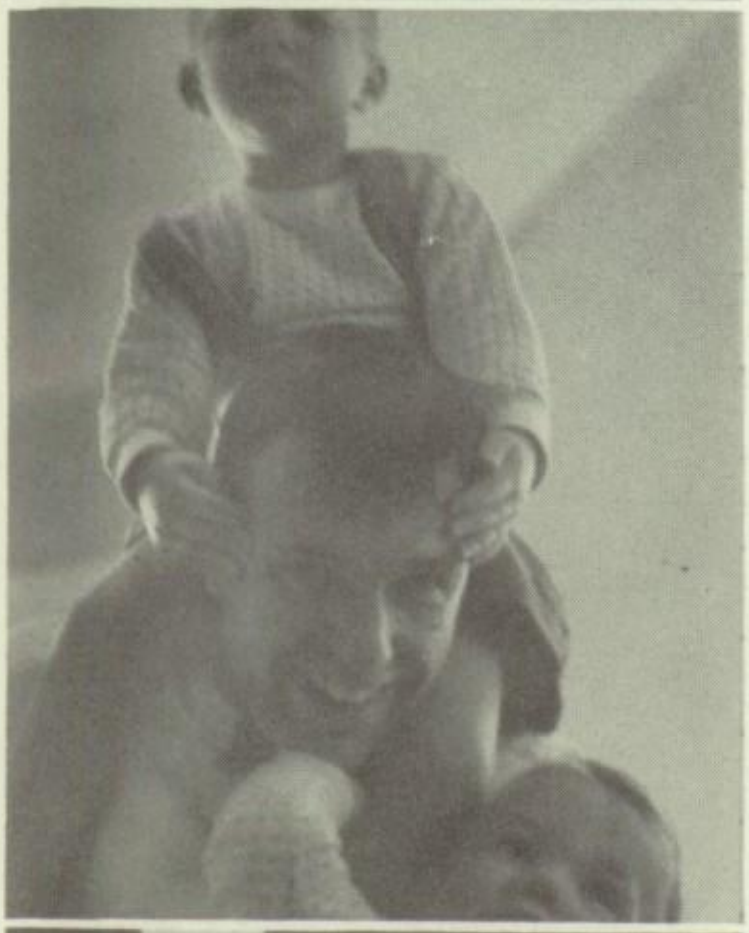


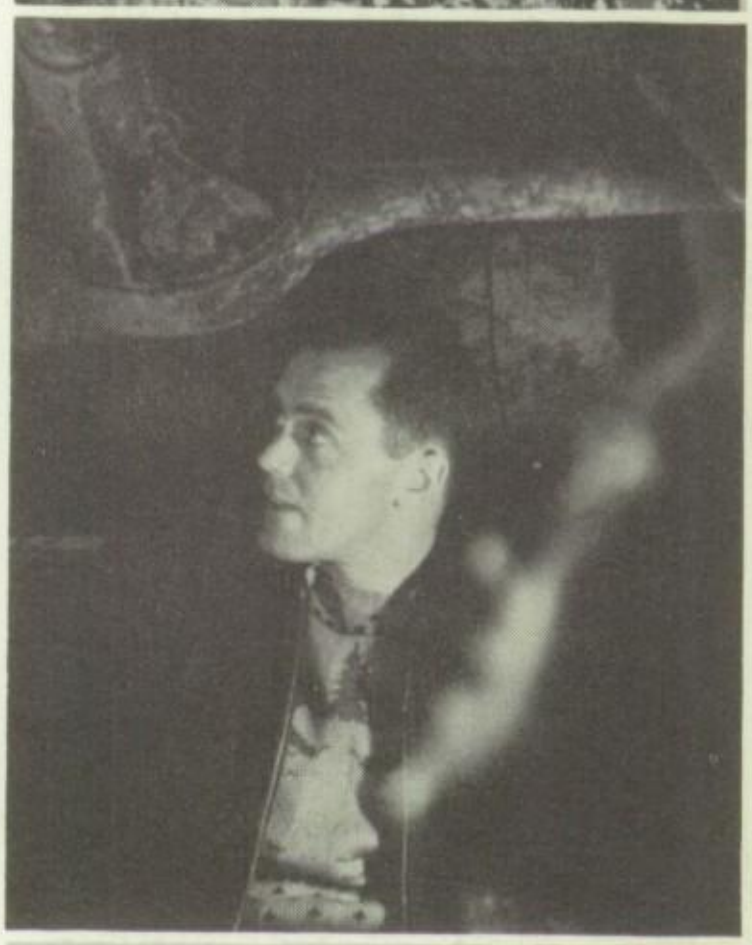
To risk, by frequent injuries,
A brain as delicate as his

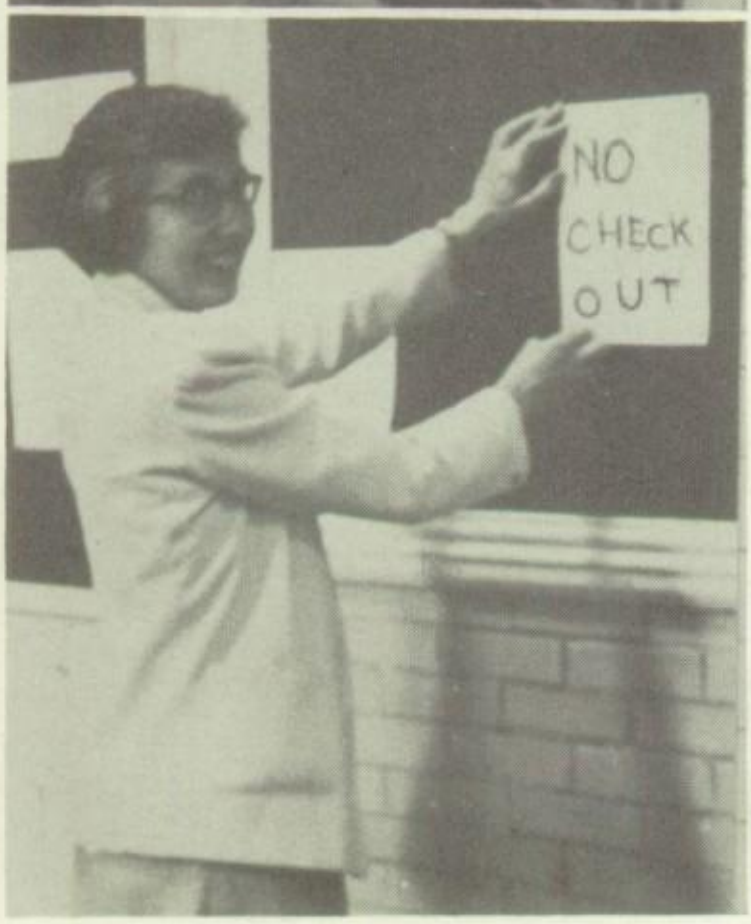




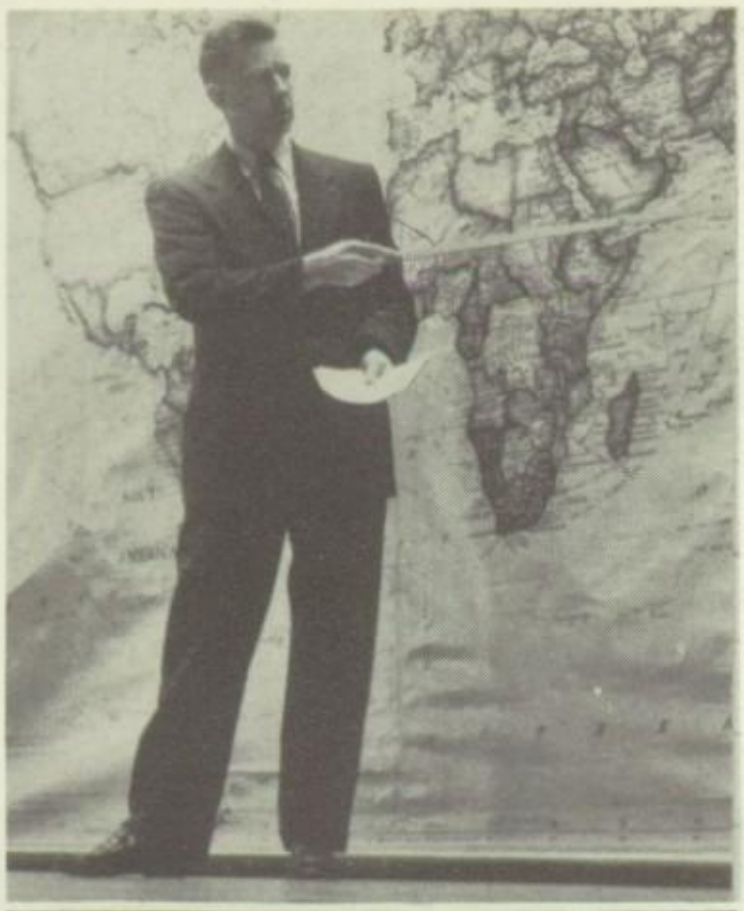
He multiplied as far as four

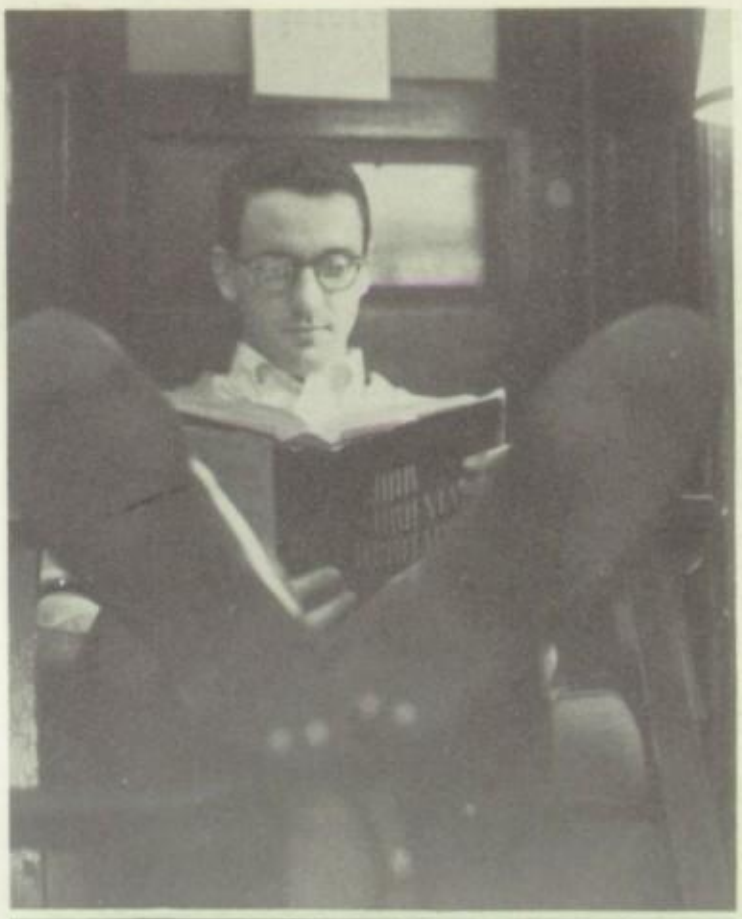


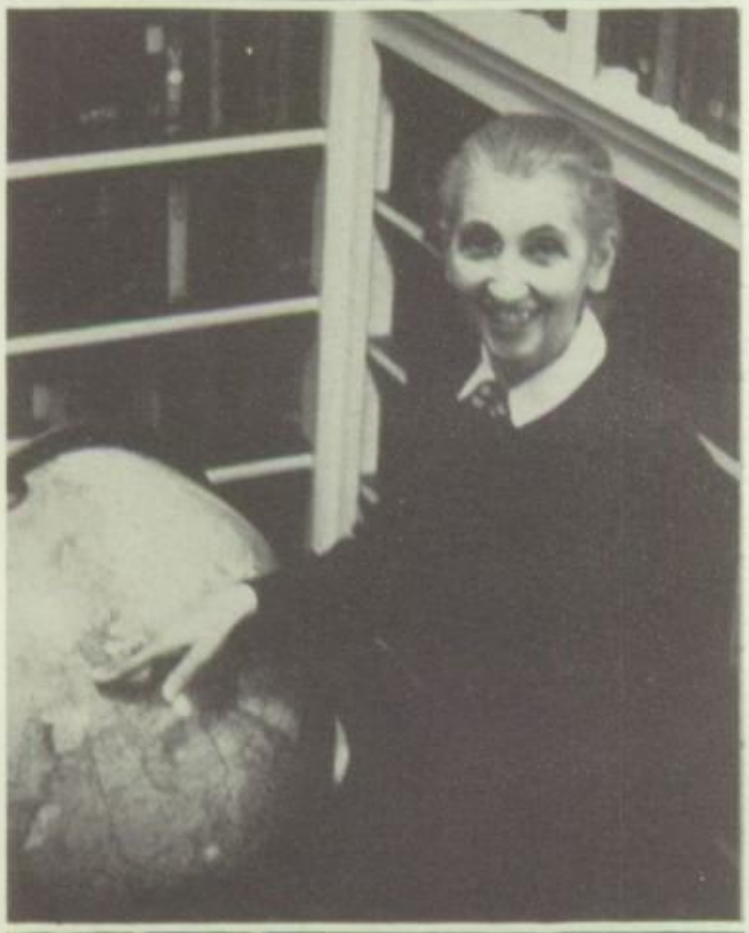




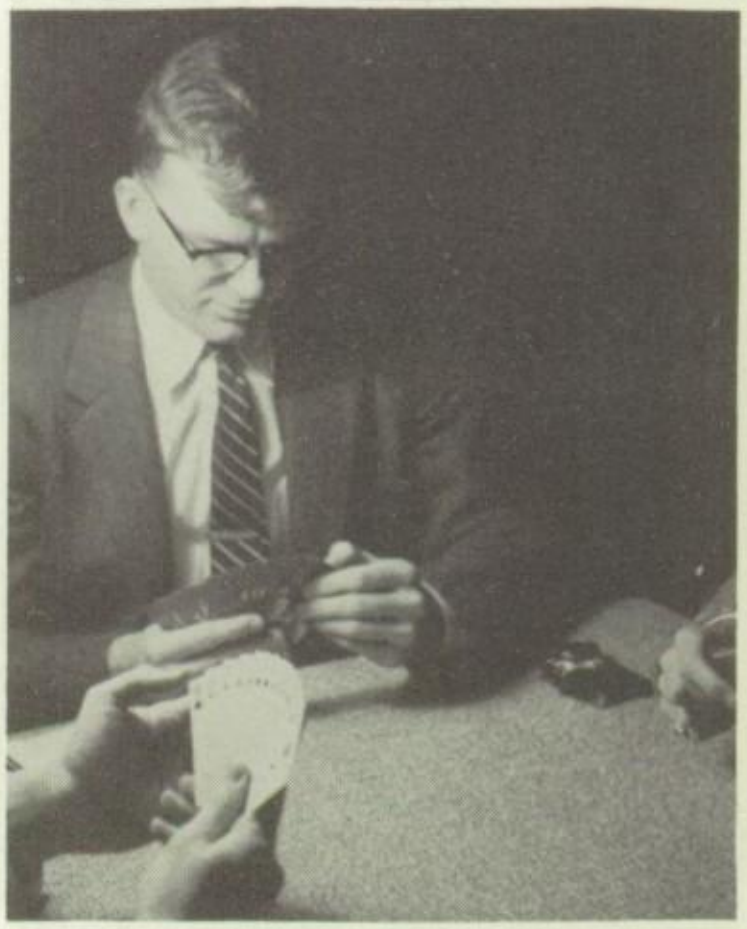
And he asks about this and he explains about that







You may remember that . . .



It's no good saying it. They don't understand

Agnes Marshall Finnie 1941

Pittsford-Mendon Road, Pittsford, New York

Dear Teacher Agnes,

We the senior class of fifty-five, in order to express our gratitude for constant justice, partial dormitory tranquillity, entertainment at class parties, promotion of general welfare, and enlightenment of eighty-one small minds for the benefit of posterity, do originate and dedicate this nineteen fifty-five Amicus to you.

Especially we want to thank you for:

The Christmas Party at Bacon Cottage;

Ice and Roller skating parties;

Coffee on the dorm;

And obtaining all permissions necessary and proper for carrying into execution the foregoing schemes and all other schemes deemed sensible by you and originated by us on the spur of the moment and at all other such inappropriate times.

Signed,

The Class of '55

Maybe I'll be a graduate of Westtown yet! I owe you so much, Teacher Mabel, and there is no way to repay you. You will never know how I've missed you this year even though I knew you were so close to school. There is really nothing you can say in these books to express how you really feel. I know how I feel about you. Thank you for helping me so.

CLASS HISTORY

The dynamic class of '55 had its humble beginning in the little room in Industrial where all senior classes originate. The founding "fathers" who were then present and who have stuck it out to the bitter end were Marian Bonner, Nancy Swan, Dick Solomon, Jim Forsythe, Nancy Cohen, Jenni Rains, Judy Graham, Jack Kirk, Sue Rie, Idalou Ellis and Katy Scott. In our next two years we went through all the phases that most other senior classes go through from realizing that dating might be fun to putting down our space cadet interests. These years were highlighted by class parties on the farms of several local members, and here the class first learned to play together.

Then in 10th grade a drastic change took place. We were no longer a day student class and we more than doubled in size. The school suddenly sat up and took notice. The newcomers added new life blood to the class which was immediately branded as the most radical, rowdy, and spirited class that Westtown had seen in many a year; it was not an uncommon thing to notice several frustrated faculty members scratching their heads in bewilderment. We were no longer just a bunch of individuals struggling for academic grades. We were the class of '55, the class with a difference. The times we had together that year, though not always approved by the higher officials, did more to weld us together as a class than any other thing.

Our junior year the finishing touches were added and the class was rounded out with all of its raw materials assembled for the first time. A careful observer, if he looked closely, could see a new spirit beginning to spring up within us. We were not only the group of hackers which had often made people wonder what the school was coming to, but were all bound together into one unit, the class of '55. Responsibilities were given us, the school looked toward us for leadership and we eagerly accepted the challenge. We have become the school and the school us.

'55 has come; Master Tom Brown and Teacher Agnes Finnie have joined us with the final knot. At camp fires and skating parties we laughed together and shared good times together. In our studies we worked together. In our extracurriculars, whether they were on the soccer field or in chorus we found pleasure and satisfaction together in the sense of achievement. We are bound together by something that is higger than anyone of us and yet is part of everyone of us. We are the class of '55.

So I tried

The election of officers for the Class of "55" was something of an innovation in that it was held in the spring of 1954. We got off to a good start in September with Bill Klein and Anne Parker as president and vice president; Teddie Bersbach as secretary; and Judy Grove and Art Garrett as joint treasurers.

Bill, a letterman in several sports, has proved himself in the administration field too this year. Aided by Anne, he led many important class meetings and staged quite a few class parties. Teddie was an old hand at being secretary as she held the position last year; Judy and Art both did a good job of holding onto the "piggy bank".

We are proud of the leadership our officers have given us this year and know they will try to keep the class together in years to come.

CLASS WILL

I, Irv Atkinson, will my scotch plaid nose-guard to Pete Hunter to go with burmudas.

I, Pete Badeau, leave moonlight canoe rides to anyone with a passion for great adventure.

I, Betsy Baker, will my place on the front-row bench in Meeting to Peggy Zook.

We, Fred Bee and Bob Lee, leave the North to Teacher Agnes Finnie and any other Yankee who is stupid enough to take it!

I, Teddie Bersbach, leave my "nice" plaid skirt to Sue Horsfield.

I, Jim Bond, will my two years of physics to Charlie Roberts.

I, Marian Bonner, leave my ink bottle in room #3 to everybody that's been borrowing it all year.

I, Pat Bringhurst, will the remains of my lab manual to Colonel so that it will always be in the lab on experiment days.

I, Sally Cadbury, will the licorice stick abilites, left to me by Neil Plass, to Ken Pennell on the condition that he does not take them with him either.

We, Bobbi Cary and Judy Graham, leave our converted room to the faculty who still think it belongs to them.

I, Nancy Cohen, leave my skating skirts to anyone who doesn't catch cold easily.

I, Nancy Connelly, will my golden tonsils to Sylvie Alpert.

I, Phyz Cook, will my red hair ribbons to Colonel.

I, Mark Coplan, leave a pack of Chesterfields and all my "non-will power" to Doug Lewis.

I, Dave Corkey, will Stone House to any smart Junior who will live up to the present high standards.

I, Hes Crissy, leave my books on "growing up" to the Stone House boys.

I, Dave Daniels, leave the stag line at dances to anyone who wants it.

I, Pete Day, will the sofa in Akeley Hall to anyone else who can use it as much.

I, Francois Dennery, leave the school to Andy Carlson.

I, Gail Dresden, will my black and blue knees from roller skating to Margot McKee.

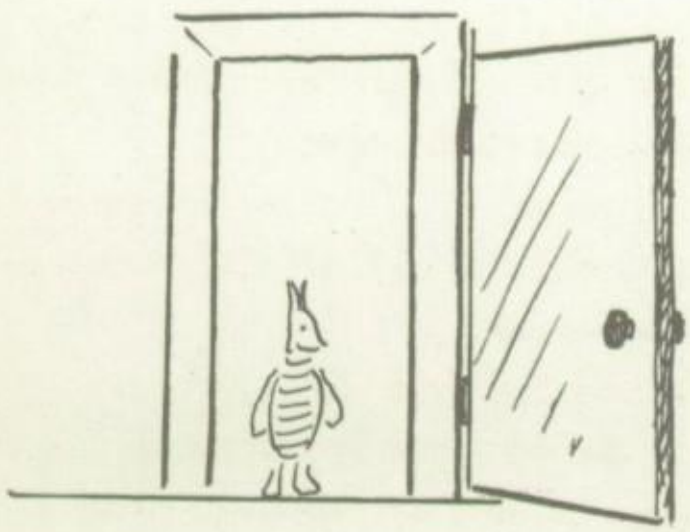
"I'm giving this to Eeyore as a present"

I, Idalou Ellis, will my dancing rhythm to Master Charlie.
I, Mary Elsbree, leave my green bureau with the chipped paint to any ambitious underclassman who will find time to paint it.
I, Jon Ely, leave my Koala bear to John Silsby.
I, Dick Fineman, will my fire escape to up-and-coming shikers.
I, Nancy Ford, will "4-Door" to Wendy.
I, Jim Forsythe, leave the tennis courts to anyone who wants to play tennis.
I, Norman Franck, will my ability to ledge walk to any fool who will do it.
I, Art Garrett, will my jitter bugging to Hoyt Drake.
I, Dave Gillen, leave my four speed electric shaver to anybody who can shift it.
I, Harriett Good, will my French pronunciation to anyone who has decided to take German next year.
I, Jackie Glover, will "Webster's Calorie Counter" to Hutchie Dawes.
I, Judy Z. Grove, leave my cynicism and snide comments to anyone who can get as much fun out of them as I have.
I, Cissie Harlow, will the Tower back to Teacher Agnes.
I, Rosemary Harvey, will the "rowdiest" teacher on the dorm to the next "busy bee."
I, Walter Hickins, will "gunhoe" to Craigie, "bunsies" to Margot McKee, and reindeer meat to anyone.
I, Bill Hickman, leave my "Skin Deep" record to Cal Smith and anybody else who's crazy about Louis Bellson.
I, Dave Hobbs, will two weeks of Westtown education to Charlie the cop.
I, Liz Hole, leave Colonel to the tender mercies of my brother.
I, David Houghton, will my rainy Alumni Days to the class of '56.
Cindy Houghton may not leave.
I, Rudy Houk, leave the milk bar to third period study hall boys. Leave some for the rest of the school!
I, John James, leave my ability to be overly complimentary to Tom Niles.
I, Dave Jenkins, will my astoundingly towering stature to that exceptionally agile athelete, Robert C. Passmore, from nearby West Chester.
I, Jack Kirk, will my skill at sleeping through alarm clocks to Mel Keiser.
I, Bill Klein, leave my peanut plantation to Colonel.
I, Mary Langdon, will my "advice to the lovelorn" to Joe Harper.
I, Owen Laug, will my ability to solder and wire electrical equipment to George Krekeler.
I, Hans Lawaetz, leave my round trip ticket to the Virgin Islands to anyone who can swim it.
I, Marianne Loftus, will my status as First Lady back to Martha Washington.
I, Elsie Longenecker, will my long flowing tresses to Barbie Jacob.
I, Jane McCulley, will my pink night cap to Master Kirk to cover his curls.

"I must give him something"

I, Jan McGourty, will my plaid glasses to Teacher Rachel.
I, Nell Miller, leave my hair for the Allen sisters to fight over.
I, John Ortlip, will my shike program to Glenn Hudson.
I, Cindy Otto, will one of my oversized shoes to Sally Billings' feet.
I, Drew Passmore, will to any loyal member of N.H.R.A. Room #13 of Auto Mechanics' hobby.
I, Anne Parker, leave the hole in the window of room #238 to all fresh air fiends.
I, Genie Parker, will to Teacher Anne a three years' supply of flashlight batteries, all of whose nine lives have been lived.
I, Don Perera, leave my no-way stretch girdle to anyone who's falling apart at at the seams.
I, Jenni Rains, leave my crinolines to Rona Fansher who needs them more than I do.
I, Sue Richie, leave the "Q-ball" to the pool shark, Dave Shivers, who will appreciate it better than I have.
I, Sue Rie, won't leave ALL of my eight years devotion to Westtown to my brothers, Dan and Tom.
I, Chip St. John, will my inimitable hobby list system to Teacher Anne.
I, Katy Scott, leave my boots in the Tower for future Westtown puddle jumpers.
I, Elaine Schofield, leave my senior dignity to Pam Schrieber.
I, Dick Solomon, will my Down Beat subscription to Charlie Roberts; my Jazz records to Jim Matlack; and weekends in the darkroom to Carl Enlowe.
I, Dave Spinney, will my track spikes to Dick Kadas.
I, Darl Striedieck, will my noisy model airplanes to Girls' End.
I, Nancy Swan, leave the physics' teacher to my younger brother and sisters.
I, Don Swartz, leave my excess adipose tissue to anyone who would like to throw some weight around.
I, Tom Taylor, will the fabulous wonders of the Windy City to any narrow-minded Easterner who hasn't been across the Appalachians.
I, Jim Todd, will my bass "girl friend" to anyone who can handle her.
I, Tom Towe, leave my loyalty to Ford Motor Company to anyone who has the courage to room with a Chevrolet dealer's son.
I, John Thompson, will one padlock and 87 keys to anyone willing to try to run a "cooperative" food store at Westtown.
I, Ted Webster, will my one pair of worn-out ankles to anyone who can use them.
I, Alice Willcox, will my wooden shoes to Sue Cannon for her midnight escapades.
I, Betty Vail, leave the masters to the teachers, regretting that "You Can't Take It With You."
I, Vito Victor, leave my Zurich two-step to John Arnold with lots of hope for the future.
I, Pete Yoder, will not will anything to anybody under any circumstances.

"Couldn't I give it too?" said Piglet



CLASSES

FIRST CLASS

The First Class started the year by reelecting Pete Hunter as president with two familiar members of the class as officers, Sue Horsfield, vice president, and Polly Gerenbeck, secretary-treasurer. The outcome of the other elections were: Glenn Hudson and Becky Dimmette on the ring committee which got the school rings early this year; and Bob Passmore, Jim Matlack, Mary Baker, and Judy Cabot on this year's Amicus staff; they will carry on next year. There were also Council, Steering, Service, and Work Program committee elections producing leaders and members from both old and new students. Roller skating and Casino parties have brought out spirit. First Class is well supplied with brain, brawn, and beauty not to mention non-conformity and group responsibility which are shaping it into a varied and interesting class.

SECOND CLASS

The class of 57 started this year with an almost doubling of their members, from 37 to 67. They were well represented in all the school committees such as Service, Work Program, Steering and Religious Life Committees. They also had their elecctions for class officers which ended in a rather international group. Bent Lawaetz from the Virgin Islands came out on top as President, Barbie Camp, their Venezuelan member, was Vice-President, and Ann Trowbridge, a die-hard New Jersian, Secretary-Treasurer. The varsity teams received several new and good additions to their teams; next year promises to be an even better year in the way of sports. They have had several class parties such as roller skating and volleyball in which there was a warm and united feeling of class spirit. The dramatics department has been able to get many good recruits for its plays and skits. There are many budding actors which in the future will give us lots of entertainment. The prospects for this class look good for the coming years, with plenty of spirit, work and fun together.

THIRD AND BELOW

The 3rd class was a large class this year with forty-nine students of which fifteen were day students. As has happened in past years, the boys outnumbered the girls thirty-one to eighteen. Their class advisers this year were Teacher Keay Smith and Master John Watchorn. Teacher Mabel Elliott also helped them with some of their class parties though not an adviser. Colin Kelly did a good job as president, Rosie Hibbard as vice president, and Dan Rie as secretary-treasurer. The class had a lot of spirit this year and is hoping for more next.

The eighth grade had thirty students this year. The class advisers were Teacher Mabel Elliott, Teacher Gladys Fleming, and Master Bob English. Jean Kirk, Charlie West, Meryl Glauner, Gail Young, David Howard, Toni Hughes, and Geoffrey Lawn were the class officers.

The Seventh grade under Master Lawrence Newhall had nineteen in the class. All were day students. Some of their class officers were Paul English, Francie Swan, Jackie Rowe, and Sue Eversfield. The latter two classes are coming along fine and we're looking forward to seeing them next year.

ACTIVITIES

STUDENT BODY PRESIDENTS

Out of the class of '55 were chosen two outstanding people to take the leading roles for this, their senior year at Westtown; Nell Miller and Hans Lawaetz are certainly to be highly commended for their work as S.B.P.'s.

Nell, who hails from New Milford, Conn., came to Westtown at the start of her junior year. Although she sometimes felt it would be hard for her to break into activities in only two years, she has proved to herself and everyone else that this is not the case. Besides playing on the hockey, basketball, and tennis teams, she also has shown her ability in music and dramatics by taking a lead in the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, "Yoeman of the Guard," her first year at Westtown. When Nell took on her job as S.B.P., she was fairly familiar with the runnings of a council, as she served on the one at her old Alma Mater, New Milford High.

At the opposite end of the house is Hans Lawaetz. Hans is one of the few students who can boast of living outside the United States. Coming from the St. Croix in the Virgin Islands in ninth grade, he quickly made himself popular and entered into many activities, especially athletics. Hans has served on the soccer, swimming, and baseball teams while here and was captain of the latter two in his senior year.

As for the future, Hans, who is extremely fond of his home land, hopes to go to Cornell and then return once more to the Virgin Islands to own his own ranch.

BOYS' COUNCIL

Under the leadership of Hans Lawaetz, S.B.P., and Pete Yoder, Chief Proctor, Boys' Council got under way before the school year started. As usual they took care of the Handbooks, the Christmas dance, and, as last year, found it was not only popular but profitable to do away with detention. However, this year's big project has been the renovation of the boys' locker room. Wielding paint brushes (it's all in the wrist!) the council members transformed the locker room walls from a rather dingy grey to a more lively green and coral. Making this room into a lounge will undoubtedly be a project for future Boys' Councils since it is still far from being completed.

Council is grateful for the thoughtful guidance of Master Al Hay, his hospitality for council meetings, the waffles etc. for starving council members, the help of both permanent and rotating members, and the cooperation of the student body.

In Which Pooh Goes Visiting and Gets Into a Tight Place

GIRLS' COUNCIL

Girls' Council for the year '54—'55 has done a splendid job. Under the leadership of Nell Miller and faculty adviser Anne Wood, the first important bill passed was ten o-clock lights for freshman. The second was an unchaperoned meal permission per term for seniors.

Council has had a number of rotating members from each class accompanied by "always welcome" visitors. The council suggestion box has never been slighted and decisions reached by council are read in evening collection.

Of course with co-operation of Boys' Council they presented a Christmas dance with all the trimmings. The council is now working on a handbook whose purpose is to answer some of the questions new students ask. This job we hope will be carried out by next year's Council. Girls' Council this year has been anything but idle and we wish next year's the best of luck.

WORK PROGRAM COMMITTEE

"W.P.C. after lunch today" is a sign often seen on the bulletin boards at both ends of the house. What does this committee do every Tuesday in the Boys' Dean's Office? Well, the sole aim of this organization is to keep the complicated system of work jobs running smoothly. To mention work jobs to anyone is likely to produce a groan, and they do have their bad moments such as 6: 40 A.M. when the alarm clock opens the door and announces cheerfully that it's time to get up. But everyone will agree that work jobs are a worthwhile part of Westtown. The W.P.C. under the able leadership of Rosemary Harvey and Don Swartz, Master Russ, and Teacher Mary have kept the jobs going well and have introduced a few changes to help them go more smoothly. They have had lots of co-operation from the student body and thanks to this, they have had a successful year.

"Astute and helpful bear"

What was the big mystery behind the glazed windows of the Nook every Tuesday after lunch? It was Steering Committee planning the school's social activities. With the new additions of a representative from stage crew and rotating members from the three upper classes, Betty and Pete had a fine group for discussing new ideas and deciding evening entertainments for the following week.

Wednesday night dances have now become standard practice. This year, novelty was introduced by having them occasionally in the new gym's minor sports' room. Music was often provided by the "Uncalled Four". The roller skating begun last year was still flourishing; and the annual volleyball tournaments gave everyone a chance to participate. For those who liked to talk or sing, Steering Committee planned "open parlors" and South Room. Quiz programs and talent shows were interesting and often surprising.

"Fun for all" is the ambition of Steering Committee and we think they have attained it.

And the look in his eye seemed to say to the sky
"Now how to amuse them today"

The '54–'55 Boys' Athletic Association was led by "Colonel" Raiford, faculty adviser, and Don Perera, president; Dave Corkey served as both clerk and treasurer.

The Brown and White captains were nominated early in the year, resulting in the election of Don Perera to head the Whites and John James for the Browns. These two chose their teams and the Brown and White games soon got under way. Technically, these intramural captains are not members of the Board even though they are concerned with a very important part of the athletic program. The Brown and White teams are becoming increasingly more important; they will be reviewed again at the end of this year, although it's not likely they'll be done away with.

The managers of the different sports were: Dave Hobbs, soccer; Joel Dimmette, swimming; John Thompson, basketball; Walter Hickins, tennis; Dave Houghton, track; and Art Garrett, baseball. They have often found themselves debating on many interesting subjects, trying to make a better program with the interests of the unathletic as well as the athletic in mind.

GIRLS' A.A.

. . .Then Jan would announce, "There'll be an A.A. Meeting in Teacher Mary's room tomorrow night," and the board members would begin to prepare for the 9: 30 P.M. session of hashing over checkout, etc., etc.!

Girls' A.A. came through with an active sports program emphasizing intramural teams. From the beginning of the year when the Browns won the first point in the annual "tug of war," both teams, captained by Teddie Bersbach and Sue Richie, have been fighting for top place on the multi-colored thermometer on the A.A. bulletin board.

The board also sponsored the rather rowdy Pajama Party in the Casino and the inevitably tempting "Candy Store" which was directed by treasurer, Nancy Swan.

President, Jan McGourty, was also assisted by "veep", Betty Vail, and Mary Elsbree, secretary, in the project of really getting intramurals into the limelight.

SERVICE COMMITTEE

The hue and cry of the Service Committee this year has been for volunteer service. Headed by Cissie Harlow and Jon Ely, with under-secretary Debbie Borton and Treasurer Alan Willcox, the committee has striven to interest the student body in active participation in its concerns. Enthusiastic response has come from requests for service in the way of apple picking, sandwich-making, knitting, week-end work camps and West Chester hospital crews.

Other fields of activity have been starving the student body at frugal meals and then stuffing them with sandwiches after hobbies. Book and bake auctions, with Master Fred as auctioneer, as well as the sale of Westtown dogs have drained all our allowances somewhat, but for the worthy cause of financing a summer work camp in Germany. Four juniors and two seniors will be given the opportunity to participate in this summer project which has been the aim of the committee's activities this year.

RELIGIOUS LIFE COMMITTEE

The present Religious Life Committee is still fairly young when viewed in regard to most Westtown traditions. However, it is entirely responsible for the program of Vesper services and serves as a place where ideas and concerns of a religious nature may be discussed, under the supervision and guidance of Tom Purdy.

The Committee is called upon to consider new ideas, and to discuss suggestions in regard to the services. The Vesper program was originally instituted to aid those students who felt the need of some definite church service. With this in mind, the committee has tried this year to keep the Vespers more like a chapel service than a mere series of lectures on religious topics. Directed meditations and meditations to music, and services by members of the faculty were also used to convey this spirit of worship.

ORCHESTRA

It sounds good! What?! Orchestra? Orchestra this year has turned out to be the best in a long time. Rehearsals are actually fun. Teacher Barbara Canfield with her musical knowledge and alert sense of humor has added much in the way of livening rehearsals and obtaining good results. Members of orchestra will claim she has very sensitive ears! Violin, viola, cello, bass, clarinet, flute, trumpet, saxaphone, piano, and drums are distributed among about twenty-five orchestrians.

At Christmas time, the budding and/or blooming orchestra surprised more than a few by putting on a really good part of the Christmas Vesper service, playing selections of familiar Christmas carols and "The Heavens Resound". Now, they are working on the overture from "Pirates" and on the spring program. With the pep it has now, the orchestra ought to do a wonderful job on its remaining performances.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

Again this year, a passer-by in Central Tuesday after dinner would hear the music of the Girls' Glee Club rehearsal, drifting in from nearby South Room. The products of these weekly practices were the traditional Christmas concert held during the Vespers preceding vacation and the spring program held in conjunction with the Mixed Chorus.

The Glee Club is again under the guidance of Teacher Dot Gould who returned to the position of directoress following a year's leave of absence. She founded the organization in 1939 and has been its leader ever since with the exception, of course, of last year. Betty Butcher is the president of the group and Sally Gilda was elected to the post of secretary.

This year Mixed Chorus was larger than it has been for some years, numbering eighty-four members. The officers were president, Walter Hickins, vice-president, Don Swartz, secretary, Jane McCulley, and librarian, Chip St. John. Master Art Winsor was the director and much appreciation is owed to him and to Teacher Barbara Canfield, who accompanied chorus on the piano, for the fun, and for the things learned throughout the year. The chorus gave several performances this year; the first one was the Christmas program. The repertoire consisted of "Ave Verum", "In Manus Tuas", "All Hail The Power of Jesus' Name", "Since By Man Came Death", and "Worthy Is The Lamb", the last two both being from Handel's "Messiah". Another program was given in the spring; however the highlight of the year was the Gilbert and Sullivan Operetta, "Pirates of Penzance" which was given in March. Master Bernie Haviland was the stage director and other faculty members helped a great deal. This year, Master Art's and Teacher Barbara's first at Westtown as teachers (Master Art had been a student here), was successful; all concerned were pleased with both the means and the end

SENIOR OCTET

The senior sextet of years past has been remodeled into a senior octet this year which has provided the school with enjoyable entertainment on several classic occasions. The songs presented during the octet's several performances were mostly old barbershop favorites mixed with some "popular" numbers.

This group may be heard vigorously stretching their vocal chords every Wednesday and on Friday during hobbies. The octet consists of Pete Day and Tom Taylor singing top tenor; Don Swartz and Pete Yoder singing lead tenor; Dave Corkey and Irv Atkinson on baritone, and Jim Todd and Ted Webster singing bass.

STAGE CREW

The stage crew, started in 1931, is too often regarded as merely a group of mechanical-minded young men studying the intricacies of pulling a stage curtain or running a projector. Under the supervision of Burdette Bernard, these boys help out with the usual Saturday night programs and Wednesday dances. They are saved from a humdrum existence by being unexpectedly called upon to rescue an actor-in-distress, like removing a nail from a sabotaged piano, becoming the brunt of a ventriloquist's jokes, or supplying necessary properties at opportune moments. Such a job has its advantages, too – appearing at the big dances in shirt-tails ostensibly to change a victrola needle, for instance.

These few have to know how to make the most of limited resources, not only in the gym or auditorium, but also in places such as the Greenwood where ingenuity is really taxed. The ultimate fate of our programs, dances, plays, operettas, roller skating, and movies all rests in their hands.

At Westtown nearly every-body reads the Brown and White!

As the '54–'55 staff of the Brown and White took over it became evident that this was to be a year of change. Encouraged by a recent poll in which students voted to continue the paper, the editors proceeded to effect such changes as new emphasis on critical reviews (signed) and new columns, "Knack of the News", "Spotlight on Super's", and Liz Hole's faculty sketches. A change in faculty advisers also took place this year; Phil Lawrence replaced Alice Pennell.

It is safe to say that no member of the staff will forget either the experience gained this year or the fun getting it. Sunday chaos in the Senior Parlor, makeup in the stack room and faculty work room, the star mis-spellers of "Cac's" class heading the sports department, Judy supplying coffee, tea, hard cider, and expert proof reading, Betty rushing frantically after late articles, John's "Who wrote this?", and Chip's "Try again." – These are our legacies to next year's staff.

With the appearance of this book, our staff withdraws from the cement sessions in the mechanical drawing room, from the meetings which somehow never went as expected, and from the final satisfaction of having it finished and HERE. At the beginning of the year it seemed almost impossible that we would come through it all successfully. But we did.

It's been a job that we've enjoyed. Sure, there've been problems; when thoughts about a theme just wouldn't come, when printed articles got lost and it took a complete inspection of the wastebasket, scrap by scrap, to unearth them, it seemed that our best idea would be to "give up".

Irv and Cissie's "creatures" on the senior pages, a supplement of spring activities and commencement, and a publicity department headed by Sue Richie have been some of our new features this year.

We'll never forget the help of our adviser, Gene Hogenauer, his oh-so-much-appreciated offering of pepsi and cookies when we'd been working for six hours on senior pages, Pat's inevitable tap on the shoulder which meant a meeting or a job to be done, and of course, the pessimists who said,"You'll never get it out by Alumni Day".

The Amicus of '55 wills an empty aspirin bottle, a warm feeling, and a very full year to the four junior members and their staff next year.

"And I know it seems easy," said Piglet to himself,
"but it isn't every one who could do it"

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1954

7:30 P. M.

When M. Giraudoux wrote "The Madwoman of Chaillot", he never anticipated the effect his play would have on Westtown's class of '55. A fantasy with lots of "philosophical implications", it portrayed as strange and unbalanced a set of characters as the mythical city of Paris could ever offer. And who could fit better into these roles than the senior class of Westtown School, driven half crazy themselves by academic worries and responsibilities?

It was real fun to work in the play. Five weeks of hilarious rehearsals, directed by that perennially successful dramatics team, Haviland-Finnie, who produced, on November 13, the intended result: nobody in the school would ever again know whether they were normal or weirdly insane.

A large part of the audience was frankly mystified by most of the Madwoman's divulgences, and that was part of the fun. Cindy Houghton's character sketch of the scheming countess was perfect! Her superbly distinguished naivete, plus the helpful suggestions of her lunatic companions, played by Misses Rie, Richie, and Bringhurst, made the whole story exciting. Despite bureaucratic rage (Tom Taylor), scientific obsession (Pete Yoder), and destructive oratory (Vito Victor), Chaillot's problem's were solved by ten o'clock, Westtown time.

BIRD CLUB

This year the once powerful Bird Club, which had become extinct, returned in all its glory. In the fall seven stalwarts met with Master Al Hay, and rechartered the club, with Jack Kirk, president, Tex Rowe, secretary, and Tom Towe, treasurer. When the membership soared to twenty-four, the club set up the requirement that a would-be-member must identify eight birds on a winter day. With the help of Master Jan Long and Master Burdette Bernard, it has taken the annual Bombay Hook and Hawk Mountain trips plus several shorter trips. Throughout the year it has gotten outside lecturers such as Albert Linton and has taken advantage of Karl Striedick's knowledge of hawks and Mel Keiser's knowledge of warblers.

With the Bird Club going strong this year, it looks as though it has a big future ahead.

UNCALLED FOUR

Ken Pennell, Rudy Houk, Jim Todd, Polly Gerenbeck, Dick Brown.

The "Uncalled Four" is a relatively new group here at Westtown, preceded only by Bill Cadbury and the "Skyliners" two years ago. The "Four" started playing together early last fall as a quartet featuring Dick Brown on the piano, Jim Todd on the bass, Rudy Houk on the drums, and Ken Pennell on the clarinet and the tenor sax. Soon they discovered they needed a little more rhythm; they added Polly Gerenbeck on the guitar. This addition made the group a quintet. Rather than change their name, they called themselves technically "The Uncalled Four plus One".

They have played at several dances, sometimes with the support of vocalist, Doug Lewis, and are constantly astir in the music studio rearranging some of the old standards, and every now and then coming up with an original. Some of their more famous renditions which we have grown to like are "Sometimes I'm Happy" and "On the Sunny Side of the Street." We have certainly enjoyed hearing from this new musical group this year.

This year's soccer team did not look too promising at the start, for there were few returning lettermen. However, the team drilled hard in fundamentals, had a lot of fun, and entered into the spirit of the game. The scores of the first games do not tell the story. The players were at times very lucky, and often played soccer below their capabilities. But, at the end of the season the spirit and soccer know-how rose to great heights. The George School game was good, solid, skillful soccer. School spirit was tremendous. The team came from behind and won. Girard was beaten in a hard fought game to close the season. The win, the first over Girard in fourteen years, was very gratifying as was the team's steak dinner at the farm house.

Dave Corkey, Jim Forsythe and Dave Jenkins were named on the All-Independent team. This was a very successful and satisfying year, and it is to be hoped that next year's team will do as well.

HOCKEY

"Varsity going towards the hospital. Jayvees with pinnies on" were typical noises coming from hockey coach, Teacher Mary Borton, this fall. At the start of the hockey season, Nancy Swan was chosen Varsity captain and Cissie Harlow was elected to lead the Jayvees. The Varsity began the season by beating Moorestown 3–2, and there were high hopes for an undefeated season. They soon discovered that life isn't all sunshine when they faced an unbeaten Wilmington team and were defeated 3–0. In the last outside game, the hockey team showed what team work and team spirit can do as they came from behind to tie Tower Hill, the best team they played all season. Beautiful stick work and quick passing ended the season with a good game of hockey.

The hockey team won't soon forget sloshing around the hockey field in the pouring rain (to keep in shape), raking wet leaves on Work Day instead of playing Ellis School, or the faculty game. Thanks go to Elsie Longenecker who was responsible for bringing about the attendance of chairs for timers and scorers and refreshments for the teams.

BOYS' BASKETBALL

The '55 basketball squad won all but three games this year out of a total of sixteen. This remarkable 13–3 record is one of the best if not the best record any Westtown basketball team has ever obtained.

The powerful squad romped over the first three opponents. Not only did they post easy wins over traditional rivals such as George School, Germantown Friends, Tower Hill, and Girard, but in the climax of the season they took the return game with P.M.C. and ruined Moorestown's 22–game winning streak. Moorestown was ready to end its second undefeated season until the Westtown team came along. Finally after an overtime play this point by point game ended with a two point victory for Westtown, the first in seven years of clashes. In the Friends' School Jamboree at George School, Westtown placed four players on the all-star team.

The team was led by Captain Dave Hobbs. Hobbs' long set shots along with Larry Forman's drives and jump shots paced the Brown and Whites with over 2/3 of the scoring. Around this strong offense were different combinations of players including James, Scarborough, Jenkins, Perera, Klein, Passmore, and Corkey.

Well, perhaps from up here it looks different

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

This year the girls' basketball team captained by Sue Richie finished up their season quite well, after a discouraging start. Although they lost the first four, the girls crashed through the remaining games, dropping only one; the final totals were five lost and four won. Even though the record is not outstanding, it shows by its trend that there was a definite improvement in the ability of the team. This is a factor of just as great importance or greater than team records and should be recognized as such. Of course the team didn't accomplish this alone, and a great deal of credit goes to the two coaches, Mary Borton and Mary Webb.

The varsity line-up for the season included forwards, Ingie Reiniger, high scorer, Nell Miller, Sue Horsfield and Genie Parker. Team work was the most important factor in this combination. Guards were Bonnie Moxie, Craigie Hammond, Hutchie Dawes and Sue Richie. As was extremely important, the guards worked as a unit; otherwise the whole zoning system which they use would have been worthless.

Next year, since only four seniors were on the team, the same girls will be on the squad again, which should provide an improved game of basketball and an excellent season. Good luck in the future, girls!

Led by Captain Hans Lawaetz, the '55 swim team finished a very successful season with nine wins and only four defeats. The team, coached by Master Fred Swan with Master Phil Lawrence as his assistant, on top of a good record, defeated George School for the first time in the eleven years these two teams have clashed.

The '55 mermen broke three records this year and seriously threatened many more. In the Malvern meet Jim Todd narrowed down the time for the 100 yard freestyle to 58.9 seconds. The medley relay team, Mike McCulley, Cal Smith, and Captain Lawaetz, cut the time down in this event in the same meet. Four freestylers, Schofield, Spinney, Todd, and Lawaetz, took 1.5 seconds off the 200 yard freestyle relay in the meet with Eddystone. Mike McCulley came within half a second of the back stroke record during the George School meet. Captain Lawaetz also rallied in this meet by just missing the record in the 200 yard freestyle, and also swimming the fastest 50 yards in the freestyle relay that Westtown has ever seen. Pete Badeau made the diving a very strong event for the Brown and Whites. Smith and Schofield also excelled in the 50 yard freestyle and the breast stroke respectively.

Laps, laps, and more laps. Every day from 4: 10 – 4: 50. Thanks to the boys, who took late swimming every day, there wasn't much wet hair at dinner this year. Even during that long period of skating the team swam on coached by Teacher Keay Smith, not to mention helpful hints from Master Phil and the boys' team. Jane McCulley was manager this year and Cindy Otto, the blond senior from Puerto Rico, led the team as captain.

Underclassmen made up a good part of the team; if they continue to get the support of the school, who knows, maybe a few records will be broken next year!

Despite the "awful red tank suits", the laps, and the exercises you'd have a tough time trying to convince any of the mermaids to try out for basketball.

CHEERLEADERS

The cheerleading squad has grown a great deal in size and spirit this year. Much of this can be credited to the eight new, peppy cheerleaders who, after the much encouraged tryouts, were chosen by co-captains, Judy Graham and Jenni Rains. These girls are Sue Richie, Sally Gilda, Bobbi Cary, Jan Hogenauer, Peggy Zook, Carolyn Vicary, and Betty Nesbitt. Some new and much-needed cheers where learned at meetings and then were introduced at pep rallies. During the soccer season some bonfire pep rallies were held outside; these encouraged a lot of good school spirit; consequently, the support behind the teams has grown this year.

Four cheerleaders were also chosen to cheer at the Brown and White games, in the hope that this would increase the enthusiasm for the intermural sports.

The possibility of boy cheerleaders was discussed this year but none were added to the squad. Perhaps the boys will really be interested next year. How about it?

BACK LOG CAMP

IN THE ADIRONDACKS SABAEL P.O.

ON INDIAN LAKE HAMILTON COUNTY NEW YORK

A Westtown Camp

A Wilderness Camp for Families and Adults

Life at Back Log is as free from the busy world as we can make it: there is one telephone (party-line); there are no radios; mail comes once a day (usually); there is no car-road into Camp.

We do have good beds, good food, good company, and a great expanse of the Adirondack Forest on all sides. Our pleasure is to help our guests enjoy the beauty and peace of this wilderness.

Some like to loaf around camp and swim or sleep, or read. Some like to canoe or try for the pike and bass. Some like to join us on our varied trips through the Forest and its lakes and mountains. We furnish all the manpower and the equipment needed (except fishing tackle). Our rates are modest with special arrangements for families.

For information talk to Master Carroll or Master Tom Brown or write to Lydia C. Cadbury, Pendle Hill, Wallingford, Pa.
